JOURNAL'S WIRES MUST BE GROSSED

The Albuquerque Morning Journal is authority for the statement that Allen Barrett will commence the publication of the Gallup Morning Star, a morning daily at Gallup, at once. The Journal also ascribes Mr. Barrett as having been editor of the Estancia News. Whether the Journal has its wires crossed or whether it was misinformed we can not say, but certain it is that an error has been committed. Mr. Barrett came to Estancia in February last, and took charge of the Herald. After about five months had elapsed the Herald was published occasionally, and a short time later discarded the daily edition entirely, Mr. Barrett making affidavit before the probate court that Estancia would not support a daily newspaper. While here Mr. Barrett ran a straight "gang" paper, which accounts for the non-support of the same. We serve notice on the Journal now that it will take a whole box of cigars to make good these errors in connecting Barrett with the News, and we'll be over soon to collect.

Took French Leave and Father's Horses

F. A. Chamblee, who lives northwest of town, was in yesterday looking for his two boys who took French leave during the morning. He has been bothered with rheumatism and not able to do as much work as usual. The older of the boys has a dislike for work and exerted an influence over the younger brother to act similarly. After having been chastised by the father yesterday morning, they took advantage of his temporary absence, and mounting his best horses rode away. Arriving home shortly, he followed the boys, to just north of Estancia, where they had circled around the town, headed eastward.

The horses are one large black horse, past two years old, and the other a sorrel mare with mule colt following. The boys are probably headed for Texas. Any information as to direction they were going, or their whereabouts will be thankfully received by the parents.

Guillermo Salas came up from Willard yesterday on business.

R. A. Marble and wife were down from their ranch home near Tajique yesterday.

Rev. J. Q. Herrin came in from Mountainair yesterday and will fill his regular appointment here tomorrow.

C. E. Doll came in on yesterday's noon train and is telling our merchants about the Loose-Wiles Crackers.

Monte Goodin and family and G. C. Travis and wife went to Manzano yesterday morning to attend the Fiesta.

C. J. Dawe, representing the Morey Grocer Company of Denver, Colorado, came in yesterday to talk groceries to our merchants.

Miss Ruth Ellis found a birthday present yesterday morning when she went into the kitchen and is anxious to learn the name of the donor to express her gratification. At first she thought the package merely laundry as it was tied up in a shirt. Upon investigation she found it contained something alive. Calling her mother, the package was opened, and found to contain a kitten. Miss Ruth is not to understand from this that she is to be an old maid, and needs a kitten for company, for the boys will see that such is not the case.

THE EDITOR

The editor does forty million chores, and meets each day forty million bores; he carries coal and he lights the fires, and puts the lid on the village lyres; he writes up weddings and jamborees, and takes his payment in bumble-bees; he knows more things than he dares to tell; and ends his life in a padded cell. He's always kind to the hardluck chap; he helps the statesman who wants a snap; he booms the dreary old town sky high; he tells the truth when he ought to lie; he tells of weddings and births and deaths, of the village bums with the painted breaths of song and sermon and prayer and knell, and ends his days in a padded cell. He gives advice that no man would heed; he springs deep wisdom that none will read; he wears his pants till you cannot say whether they're blue or brown or gray; he moulds the fortune of other men; and shakes up governments with his pen, he does his duty and does it well, he goes at last to a padded cell.—Walt Mason.

Sunday Services

The regular monthly business meeting of the Baptist Church will be held this morning preceded by preaching services at 11 o'clock. Regular services tomorrow morning. Sunday school at 10, preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. J. Q. Herrin.

Miss Connie Chavez returned last evening from the mountains, where she has been attending the Fiestas.

The Socialist County Convention will be held in Estancia today to nominate candidates for the county offices.

Acasio Gallegos came down from Santa Fe Thursday night and left for the mountains with the mail driver yesterday morning. He is looking after political fences and making medicine for any opponent that may appear.

Maine in Doubt

Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—The fate of constitutional prohibition in Maine remained in doubt early today. On the face of the unofficial returns there appeared to be a very small majority on the Prohibition side. In two instances however, the unofficial returns from towns and city clerks do not agree with the figures sent by the same clerks to the secretary of state at Augusta.

Peach Honey is the Latest Fad

Roswell, N. M., Sept. 14.—Bees in the Pecos Valley have solved the problem of making honey from the juice of ripe peaches. It is the latest and most dainty product in this valley. The first public exhibition of the peach honey will be seen at the Roswell products exhibition, October 5, 6 and 7.

The peach honey will come from the ranch of E. W. Mirable, located near Artesia. So far as peach growers and bee keepers can ascertain this will be the first honey made from juice of ripe peaches in the country. Honey has been produced in many places made partly from the nectar of peach blooms, but not from the ripe fruit.

On Mr. Mirable's ranch he produces large quantities of honey each year from alfalfa and mesquite blooms, and thus far the bees have been satisfied with that sort of material. This year there has been an abundance of both kinds of blooms, but the bees decided to try the ripe peaches.

William Gregg was a south bound passenger last night, en route to his home in San Simon, Arizona. Mr. Gregg is at present in the general merchandise business and with his family has taken up a section and a half of desert land under the desert land laws. He predicts great things for the part of Arizona in the near future.

Picked Up

If we'd think more we'd fight less.

Ain't this the awful world! Quite often a man who tries to do the right thing gets the worst of it.

JUDGMENT IN DISTRICT COURT

Judge Abbott yesterday handed down judgment in favor of the Consolidated Liquor Company in their suit against Cleofas Luna, of Mountainair, for an alleged debt of $691.86. Judgment in full with costs was allowed.

This suit was filed on May 7 last by the plaintiffs alleging that the defendant came into the possession of the business of Jose D. Lobato, and assumed the indebtedness of the former firm, which at that time was $268.24. Since that time further bills of goods were sold and delivered to Luna, and both accounts were charged to the then owner of the saloon.

Luna answered, denying the whole of the debt, but acknowledged that portion contracted after January 19, 1910, when he bought the place. After the evidence had been introduced Judge Abbott held for the plaintiff—Albuquerque Morning Journal.

Judge Ira A. Abbott in the Second Judicial district court today rendered judgment in favor of the Bank of Commerce for $14,000 against William Dunbar. The plaintiffs alleged that Dunbar gave to William McIntosh a promissory note for $12,138 on March 4, 1910, which remained unpaid. McIntosh transferred the note to the bank and judgment was rendered today.—Albuquerque Herald.

T. B. Catron passed through Estancia last night en route to Alamogordo on legal business.

Ex-Mayor Van Stone and family returned from Santa Fe last night, where they have been visiting the past ten days.

Angus McGillivray is in the city from Estancia. He arrived yesterday to spend several days on business.—Albuquerque Herald.

Roman Tenorio was up from his home near Pinos Wells, yesterday, looking after his political standing. He is a candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket and claims to have the nomination and the certificate of election in his pocket now.

First, money; then ceremony, matrimony, testimony and alimony.

Eternity will last a good while, but we shall need it all to forget some of the things we did in a few minutes.
